REVIEWED!
Election of 1824 will formally put an end to the Era of Good Feelings
Candidates of 1824: All four claimed to be Republicans

John Q Adams
Sec of State

William Crawford
Sec of Treasury

Henry Clay
Kentucky

Andrew Jackson
Tennessee
Election of 1824: Results

Andrew Jackson wins the popular vote

BUT- nobody wins a majority of the electoral vote

Election goes to the House of Rep
BACKGROUND TO THE ‘CORRUPT BARGAIN’

- Under 12th Amendment: They must choose among the top three candidates
- Speaker of the House Clay and JQA both supported the American System
- Clay throws his support behind John Quincy Adams
- Henry Clay was picked as new Sec. of State.
- Awesome position to become President (3 had become President)
- According to Jackson’s supporters, Adams had bribed Clay with the position.
- Jackson peeps denounce "corrupt bargain"
JOHN QUINCY ADAMS

Foreign policy legend:

Accomplishments as Secretary of State:

1) Rush-Bagot Treaty
2) British-American Convention
3) Adams-Onis Treaty
4) Monroe Doctrine

• Difficulties as President
  – Never had majority of support
  – charges of “corruption” hanging over him
POST 1824 ELECTION

Final split amongst “united” Republicans under the Era of Good Feelings

1) The National Republicans with Adams

2) The Democratic-Republicans with Jackson
Dirty campaign
Sectional results of vote
But Jackson crushed JQA in the rematch
First President from the West
Seen as a “common man”
Democratization of American society

Most states eliminate property requirements for voting

Eventually universal white male voting (suffrage)
Jackson’s inauguration seen as a victory for common man
POLITICAL CHANGES

• 1790-1828: Caucus System
  – Small group of individuals within the party would choose the candidate

• After 1828: Party Convention
  – Members from the political party nominate the candidate

• Spoils System—rewarding political supporters with public office
  – Jackson defended it on democratic grounds
  – Corruption and ineffectiveness accompanied the new system
NULLIFICATION CRISIS

• Tariff of 1828 passed by Congress
  – Northerners like, Southerners hate it
  – Sectionalism on the rise again!
• Southerners refer to the Tariff of 1828 as the “Tariff of Abominations”
• Pamphlet published “South Carolina Exposition” written by John C. Calhoun
• Nullification Theory: a state had the right to decide whether to obey a federal law or nullify it.
  – Remember the Seditious Acts (Kentucky and Virginia Resolution 1798)
• Another tariff passed by Congress- Tariff of 1832
• South Carolina is pissed
  – Nullification approved: the tariff would not be collected in South Carolina
  – Threaten secession if attempts made to collect the tax
JACKSON Responds

- Jackson was not a fan of the tariff, but wanted to defend the union
- “Olive Branch and Sword”
  - Force Bill of 1833: Federal army would collect tariff
    - Nullification would not be tolerated
  - Compromise Tariff of 1833: Henry Clay help negotiate a lower tariff
- Nullification was rescinded
  - Union preserved
- Sign of things to come?
  - South Carolina will leave union in 1860
Jackson's Indian Policy

- Jackson's Goal: Expansion into the Southwest for Southern planters
- Indian Removal Act of 1830: Five Civilized Tribes were forced to leave their land west of the Mississippi River.

Under the Indian Removal Act (1830) the tribes were forced to leave their land for land west of the Mississippi River.
RESULTS OF INDIAN REMOVAL ACT

• Jackson’s policy led to uprooting of thousands of Native people
• Seminole Indians refused to leave Florida
  – Brutal war took place between the U.S. and Seminole Natives called Second Seminole War
• Courts protect the rights of Cherokee:
  – Worcester v. Georgia (1832): Georgia law does not apply to the Cherokee nation
  • Cherokee cannot be forced to move by the U.S. government
• Jackson chooses to ignore federal courts decision
  – “John Marshall has made his decision, let him enforce it if he can.”
Trail of Tears (1838) forced removal of 15,000 Cherokees to leave Georgia.
Bank War

- 1816 Congress gave 20 year Charter to the Bank of the U.S.
  - Congress approves recharter in 1832 with help of Henry Clay. Wants to make it an issue in Election of 1832.

- 1832 → Jackson vetoed the recharter of the 2nd National Bank of the United States.
The Supreme Court declared the National Bank to be constitutional in McCulloch v. Maryland (1819)
Jackson’s veto of the bank was one of many vetoes he used. He had vetoed more times than all the other Presidents combined.
